MAHER GOT FITZ.

The Great Prize Fight Comes Off in New Orleans.

ENDED IN TWELVE ROUNDS.

Thousands of People Crowd Into the Olympic Club Rooms to Witness the Fight Between Bob Fitzsimmons and Peter Maher.

NEW ORLEANS, March 3.—The great fight between Bob Fitzsimmons and Peter Maher took place at the Olympic club rooms last night and resulted in Maher being knocked out in the twelfth round. Following close upon the Ryan-Needham fiasco of Monday and receiving the benefit of the overflow of the great influx of Mardi Gras visitors, it was natural enough that one of the greatest pugilistic encounters the country has seen of recent years should receive an unwonted amount of public attention. But even the most sanguine prophets at the Olympic club failed in their anticipation of the event of last night. Such interest on the part of citizens and strangers alike in a pugilistic event has never been manifested in the city of the Mississippi.

Nothing but fight was talked about in the hotels, among the groups on the streets, in the hundreds of saloons and manufactories, workshops and stores. As early as 4 o'clock pedestrians began to wend their way toward the club house of the Olympic club. By 6 o'clock not only Royal street for a distance of several blocks, but also the parallel thoroughfares to the east and west were packed solid with broughams, coupes and omnibuses, while outside of the club house there was a crowd that filled both sidewalks as far as the eye could reach.

In the throng there were men from the east and the west, from the north and the south, who at home with pious faces and virtuous indignation would repudiate the very suggestion that they would look upon a prize fight. There were merchants, princes and capitalists, generals of army, or at least one of them, surrounded by members of his staff; millionaires, retired and active, and around all and about all a great fringe of sporting humanity gathered together from every state and territory of the Union.

A few minutes before 8 o'clock, Colonel J. H. Crosby, chairman of the contest committee of the house, made his appearance in the ring and impressed upon the gathering the fact that order must be preserved, and that neither betting nor audible comment would be allowed.

George R. Carn, of Chicago, was selected timekeeper for Fitzsimmons. P. J. Donohue, of New York, for Maher; R. M. Frank, official timekeeper for the Olympic club.

A greeting that was simply a hurricane greeted the Australian and the Irish lad as they simultaneously entered the ring. Maher was the first to enter, and it was commented upon that he looked nervous. Perspiration stood out in beads on his forehead, and he chewed his lower lip with a nervous movement. When Fitzsimmons appeared a moment later the house broke into a yell that resembled the deafening of a Yale college crowd at the close of a ball rush.

At 8:15 the two men faced each other in the ring.

First round—Both men watched each other. Both exchanged blows. Maher, the aggressor, led; Fitzsimmons countered heavy on the ribs and both displayed great science. Fitz knocked Maher down with right in jaw; Maher lunged at him; missed him; Fitz hit him a stiff one; Maher lunged again and missed him; Fitz hit him heavy in mouth; Maher groggy; Fitz gets first blood; Maher hit Fitz hard, staggering him, the call of time saved him, terrible fighting. Honors even.

Second round—Both men sparred and tired. Both missed heavy face blows. Maher hit Fitz a terrific blow on the heart. Fitz landed heavy on Maher's neck. Maher rushed and hit him hard. Maher bleeding from the mouth. Honors about even. Both weaker.

Third round—Both sparred for wind. Both cautious, both exchanged light blows. Maher leads, falls short. Maher hit for the head. Fitz dodged, landing heavily on the neck. Maher runs after him. Fitz ducks. They both hit each other. Honors even.

Fourth round—Maher led, missed him, leads again. Fitz jumped away. Maher hit him light on nose. Fitz led, jabbed him in mouth. Maher countered on chest. Fitz jabbed him in mouth again hard. Both men cautious. Fitz ducks away and jabs Maher twice in the mouth, hits him again. Fitz had the best of this round.

Fifth round—Both sparred for wind. Fitz led light on chin. Maher countered heavily on body. Both men landed lefts on face. Maher bleeding badly from mouth, his mouth looked like beefsteak. Fitz hit him twice more in the mouth. Maher runs at him but Fitz ducks cleverly, both fighting hard. Maher hits Fitz lightly in stomach. Maher lands left on neck. Fitz had best of round.

Sixth round—Fitz led light on neck; both hit heavily on neck. Maher landed heavily on Fitz's jaw, both men tired. Fitz seemed to be the fresher of the two. Fitz led, hits him hard in neck, he countered; Maher hits him hard, terrible in-fighting, both slugging, honors still even.

Seventh round—Both led. Fitz landed on stomach, both exchanged lefts on head; Maher goes to Fitz's corner. Fitz ducks away, they both exchange hard blows on neck. Fitz gives him the "pivot" and landed a terrific one on his neck. Both hit hard on neck, with right. Fitz jabs him again. Fitz land a heavily on call of time. Fitz had best of the round.

Eighth round—Fitz jabs him on the neck, both sparred for wind. They both exchanged blows and clinch. Fitz jabs him again. Fitz hits him in mouth, he countered on neck. Fitz jabs him twice, he retaliates twice. Fitz lands with left on wind. Fitz had far and away the best of the round.

Ninth round—Fitz seemed to be the freshest; they both landed on face, they both hit each other hard on neck. Fitz jabs him again, he landed light on shoulder. Fitz jabs him twice in mouth. Maher seemed to be getting weak, his blows lacked force. Both men tired, the round was somewhat same, honors slightly in favor of Fitz.

Tenth round—Fitz jabbed Maher in the neck. Maher hit Fitz on the neck, both men very cautious. Fitz jabs him in the mouth, both men on defensive. Fitz landed on Maher's jaw. Maher led, hit Fitz hard in the stomach, swings two vicious blows and missed. They both landed heavy, honors even.

Eleventh round—Both men cautious. Fitz jabs him in the mouth, landed again, both exchanged blows. Fitz jabs again. Maher led him on the arm. Fitz jabs in return in the mouth. Maher landed on the breast. They both landed heavy blows on the neck. Fitz jabs him in the mouth and repeats the dose. Fitz had all the best of it.

Twelfth round—Fitz, while evidently cautious, seemed to be determined to end the affair in quick order. He led out with his right and left on Maher's face and breast, and the Irishman became decidedly groggy. He got a fierce left-hander in the face, fair and square, and which, if followed up, would have laid him flat and helpless in the ring. Fitz, however, played with him like a cat with a mouse, and retreated so that he could get into the center of the ring.

When time was called Maher walked to his corner a trifle unsteady, but to all appearances good for several more rounds. It was then the surprise of the night came. Just as the call was about to be made for the thirteenth round, Maher remarked to Billy Madden and Fallon: "I can not keep on; let it go at that."

"Have you got enough?" yelled some one in the crowd near by.

The Irishman nodded his head and seemed in immediate danger of collapse. Fitz, who had hardly caught on to the situation, sprang to his feet, rushed across the ring, seized both of the Irishman's hands and shook them again and again. Tears stood in Maher's eyes and he half rose to his feet and then staggered back. The crowd cheered and began to file out, and in a few minutes the ring was empty.

AN ANARCHIST'S BLUNDER.

It Causes a Sensation and a Nine Days' Wonder.

PARIS, March 3.—The attempt to blow up the residence of the Princess De Sagan promises to be a nine days' wonder. Nobody could conceive why the princess should be attacked in this manner. She is one of the most popular members of Parisian society, and was never objectionable to the populace, with whom she was a favorite on account of her liberal dealings and expenditures and the amiability of her disposition. That the most ruthless of nihilists should attempt to destroy her dwelling would seem to be an act of incredible irony.

It now appears that the whole affair was a mistake. The explosion did occur as reported, but it was intended for another house. The dynamites have made a stupid blunder. The Spanish embassy was formerly located in a neighboring building on the Faubourg St. Germain, and sympathizers here with the Spanish anarchists had that place in view, unaware that the embassy had been removed. A letter was received at the building formerly occupied by the embassy, signed by a committee of Spanish and French anarchists, making certain demands, and threatening if they were not complied with that the building would be blown up. The letter was handed to the police by the occupants of the house, and nothing more was heard of it.

It is now evident that the instruments of the committee on their blundering efforts to carry out their intention, were not only ignorant of the removal of the embassy, but mistook the house it once occupied, and in a cowardly and hurried manner, regardless of consequences to the innocent, deposited their explosives in the doorway of the Sagan mansion. The explosion which followed did much damage to the facade of the hotel, which is one of the handsomest in Paris. Only the servant who tried to sweep aside the tubes was hurt, and he is not expected to recover his eyesight. That he was not torn to pieces is almost miraculous.

Whisky Trust Indictment Made Public. BOSTON, March 3.—The indictment against the whisky trust officials, which has been so carefully guarded in the secret files of the United States district court, was ordered by Judge Nelson yesterday to be placed on the regular files and entered on the docket. It contains 2,000 words or more. It appears from the endorsement on the back of the indictment that it was reported on Feb. 23, and that the court ordered a capias issued for the arrest of each defendant.

Jugged Him at Juarez. DETROIT, March 3.—It is learned here that Ralph R. Chandler, formerly the Lake Shore railroad cashier here, who absconded about a month ago with $10,000, has been arrested in Juarez, Mexico, and will be at once brought back here.

Old Steamboatman Dead. BOONEVILLE, Mo., March 3.—Captain Joe B. Kinney, at one time an old steamboat man and owner of several handson boats on the Mississippi river, died at his home here, aged eighty-four years.

WHO WILL IT BE?

Probable Vote at the Democratic National Convention.

NEW YORK HERALD'S ESTIMATE.

Of the Nine Hundred Votes Hill Will Get 295, Cleveland 265, and 350 Will be Scattering Which Will Probably Go Solidly to Some Western Man After the First Complimentary Ballot.

NEW YORK, March 3.—The Herald prints a table purporting to show how, as between Cleveland, Hill and some western man, the delegates in the Democratic national convention will vote. The estimates are made by Thomas Alvord, Jr., the Washington correspondent of that paper.

"This table has been carefully and accurately prepared. It is supported by interviews with well posted Democrats from each one of the states and territories on whose judgment the expressed probability as to how the respective delegations will vote are based. There has been no guess work, every figure in the table being sustained by competent and quoted authority."

The manner in which the several state delegations will vote is based upon interviews which follow the table:

Alaska's two delegates are not expected. Necessary to a choice (two-thirds rule), 600. Illinois will cast 48 votes for General Palmer; Indiana, 30 for Gray; Iowa, 26 for Governor Boies; Kentucky, 26 for ex-Speaker Carlisle; Maryland, 16 for Senator Gorman; Michigan, 28 for Don Dickinson, and Pennsylvania, 64 for Governor Pattison.

After these complimentary votes all of the states mentioned, except Maryland and Pennsylvania, desire that their delegations support a western man, providing, of course, that the favorite son shows no signs of gaining strength. Pennsylvania's votes will then go to Hill, as will Maryland's sixteen delegates. This has all been allowed in the table.

Western Men.

The correspondent says: "The sentiment so strong for a western candidate, the possibilities in that direction are worthy of note. It is significant that the west has so far presented four candidates—Governor Boies, of Iowa; General Palmer, of Illinois; Governor Gray, of Indiana, and Don Dickinson, of Michigan."

"The strongest of these is Boies and Palmer, and of the two Boies seems to have the lead. Not only is Governor Boies the choice of the Iowa Democrats but he will also have the Missouri and Nebraska delegations at the start. It is evident from the interviews that others of the western states will naturally incline to Boies, not only because he is a western man, but on account of his free silver affiliations. Palmer, on the other hand, has openly declared against the free coinage of silver, and the effect of this will be greatly to neutralize his chances. Mr. Boies' position on the silver question makes him an available candidate in such of the southern states as believe in the free and unlimited coinage of silver."

"Representative Butler, of Iowa, presumably reflected the sentiment of most of the free silver men, when in stating his preference for Governor Boies he said: 'We don't ask that our president shall be a champion of free silver, but we want to feel that he will not veto a free silver bill if both houses of congress pass one.'"

"It may be inferred from this, therefore, that while Governor Boies occupies a conservative position on this question, he would prove an acceptable candidate to the advocates of the free silver policy. A favorite ticket in the west would seem to be Boies, of Iowa, and Russell, of Massachusetts."

Rhode Island for Cleveland.

PROVIDENCE, March 3.—Democratic state convention held here yesterday nominated W. T. C. Wardwell, of Bristol, for governor; Charles F. Gorman, for lieutenant governor; J. J. Heffernan for secretary of state; Z. O. Slocum for attorney general, and T. G. Spencer for general treasurer. Delegates to national convention were elected and instructed for Cleveland.

ALONG THE EASTERN COAST.

The Storm Still Rages and Several Vessels Have Been Wrecked.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., March 3.—Schooner Fannie Thrasher, Portland for Pensacola, while trying to enter the harbor Tuesday evening, carried away main topmast, rigging and sails, when she anchored near Dog bar, where she was in great danger of going among the breakers. Peter Olson and William Hart, two of the crew, started in a boat to go ashore after a tug, but they have never been heard from and it is supposed they were drowned.

Yesterday afternoon the tug Startle, with the aid of the humane society's boat and a volunteer crew, succeeded in getting a line to the schooner and towed her to a safe anchorage. Of the lost seaman, the former was a Swede and the latter belonged in Post Hawkesbury.

Schooner M. M. Chase, Eastport for New York, anchored among the breakers off Eastern Point last night, where she was unable to extricate herself and was in great danger of foundering. She was towed to the inner harbor by Emma S. Bradford.

Collision of Vessels.

WILMINGTON, Del., March 3.—On Monday night the British bark Orion and the American four-masted schooner Marguerite, in ballast from New York to Philadelphia, collided in Delaware bay. The latter lost her foremast head gear and bowsprit. While being towed up the river last night she was blown ashore on the rocks at Fort Delaware, and is now lying in six feet of water. She is in a very bad condition.

Twelve Reading colliers are in shelter in a bay near Bombay hook, storm stayed and short of provisions. The collier Rattlesnake put in at New Castle yesterday for supplies.

More Damage Done at Cape May.

CAPE MAY, N. J., March 3.—The full tide of the prevailing heavy gale poured in over the meadows yesterday. A heavy sea beat upon the shore carrying away more of the Beach Drive extension, but doing no other damage to the city front. A stone curbing will be placed in front of the president's cottage where the sea threatens to encroach upon the drive. Train service to Queen City and Five Mile Beach is still suspended. Several sections of track have been carried away. There are no signs yet of clearing weather.

Turned Into a Snowstorm.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., March 3.—The gale in this city last night was accompanied toward morning with a heavy fall of snow and sleet, which broke many electric light and telephone wires. The latter service is seriously embarrassed. Eight inches of snow fell.

The Storm Continues.

NEW YORK, March 3.—The storm along the New Jersey coast continues, and considerable damage is reported at Seabright and other resorts.

Base Ball Meeting.

NEW YORK, March 3.—The National Base Ball League at its meeting yesterday decided that Dan Richardson rightfully belongs to the Washington club, and that the New York club is entitled to the services of third baseman Lyons, who is also claimed by the Pittsburgs. A number of amendments to the playing rules were adopted. The national agreement was adopted in about the same shape as reported from the committee. The playing schedule will be considered today.

Two Men Mangled by a Train.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 3.—Samuel Hart and George Oliver, switchmen in the Panhandle yards, met with a terrible accident yesterday. They climbed over a moving freight train, intending to board the incoming passenger, but just as they reached the main track the passenger struck them and both were horribly mutilated. Hart's head being severed from his body and his limbs being terribly mangled, while Oliver was crushed and bruised and will die of his injuries.

Will Investigate the "Slums."

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The committee on education and labor reported favorably to the senate yesterday a joint resolution directing the commissioner of labor to investigate the "slums" of cities of 200,000 inhabitants and over. The inquiry is to relate to the occupations, earnings, sanitary surroundings and other essential facts necessary to show the condition of residents of such localities. Twenty thousand dollars is appropriated for the investigation.

Quarrel Ends in Murder.

PITTSBURG, March 3.—Edward Fostill, flagman, and Michael Niland, fireman on Baltimore and Ohio pushing engine 438, became involved in a quarrel while their engine was taking water near Somerset. Niland advanced on Fostill with his coal pick as a weapon. Fostill drew his revolver and shot Niland dead. Superintendent Holbrook was notified of the tragedy and ordered the arrest of Fostill, pending an investigation by the coroner.

THURLOW, Pa., March 3.—Patrick Reilly, the proprietor of a flour mill at this place, met his death in a horrible manner yesterday. In some unaccountable manner he became caught in the fly belt and was crushed to death before the machinery could be stopped. His body stopped the motion of the engine, and in that manner he was discovered. Deceased was about seventy years of age.

EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

THURSDAY, MARCH 3, 1892.

SENATOR GORMAN is looming up in the Democratic free-for-all for the Presidential nomination. Gorman and Gray—how does that strike you for a ticket?

The present Legislature is daily demonstrating the wisdom of the late Constitutional Convention in limiting future sessions of the General Assembly to sixty days.

The business men of Lexington, through the Chamber of Commerce protest against the passage of the revenue and taxation bill in its present form, by the Legislature. They want equal taxation for all classes. And they are right.

It is given out that Senator Hill has accepted an invitation to deliver an address before the Mississippi Legislature on March 15th. That gives him ample time to memorize his speech. It would be rather tiresome for Southerners to listen to him read his address as he did before the late New York convention.

The latest from C. C. Moore, of the Blue Grass Blade, is that he has gone to New Orleans, probably to recuperate from the severe shocks to his nervous system received last week. He will likely steer clear of Judge Smith, of Lexington, and also of that Paris crowd hereafter. As a non-combatant, he is a success, in one sense of the word.

FRANKFORT is said to be swarming with applicants for the vacancy on the Superior Court bench. The list is a long one, and the contest is proving lively and interesting. Mr. L. W. Robertson's chances of winning are considered very good by those on the inside. In legal ability and everything else that goes to make a good Judge, he is the peer of any applicant named for the place.

"A Pair of Kids" To-morrow Night.
This musical pantomime farce which is to be the attraction at the opera house to-morrow night is said to easily distance all competitors in laughing features, and comes to us from fresh conquests over the risibilities of the amusement-seeking public that have eclipsed all its records of the past six seasons. The character of Jiles Button, which Mr. Kendall has made so familiar to the theatre-going public during a run of six years, is a veritable old country "jay" with all the backwoods homeliness and characteristic awkwardness that could possibly be instilled into such a character—as grotesquely humorous as he is thoroughly original. The "Kids" is spoken of by our exchanges as being funnier than ever.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Notes and Comments as to Their Work This Year by Superintendent Blatterman.

The time of the Superintendent has been so fully occupied, in consequence of the addition to his official duties imposed by the county school law, although many school visits were made early in the fall, he is unavoidably late in preparing and arranging his notes for publication in the BULLETIN, through which medium he is kindly enabled to lay the interests of the public schools of this county before the citizens.

LIMESTONE—DISTRICT NO. 42.

This school is in charge of Mr. C. E. Turnipseed, who is a very efficient teacher. There were very few scholars in attendance at the time of our visit, and we shall re-visit this school when there is a larger attendance. The house is a shabby affair, very poorly situated, and we hope the trustees will soon provide better quarters for their school.

SALEM—DISTRICT NO. 7.

A hard road to travel is the road from Pleasant Ridge to Salem; but we are glad to note signs of improvement in the building of a turnpike from Lowell to Salem. These people are not the kind to "stick in the mud." Before long they will have a good school house, the present one being a shabby affair. An encouraging sign is the employment of such an excellent teacher as Prof. Woodward, who has this school the present term. He is thoroughly master of the situation, and his scholars gave evidence of careful training. The attendance was good, although some of the scholars have to travel two miles to the school house. The trustees of this district are John S. Case, C. Byers, Casper Haugaboo.

CORINTH—DISTRICT NO. 5.

Here we found a new teacher for this school, but an old friend, favorably known last season at district No. 44, in Miss Viola Hill. Here is an excellent school house with a good attendance, and I have to report this school as doing well. The trustees are A. Reeves, S. Frogge, R. Pompelny, and I learned that they looked watchfully after the affairs of their district. From force of habit, we turned aside as we had done before, to refresh man and horse at the hospitable home of Mr. Stephen Frogge, where we were, as we expected, met with a cordial welcome by Mr. and Mrs. Frogge.

G. W. BLATTERMAN, Sup't.

Near Washington, Penn., People

Are not slow about taking hold of a new thing, if the article has merit. A few months ago D. Byers, of that place, bought his first stock of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Twenty-five-cent, 50-cent and $1 bottles for sale by Power & Reynolds.

THE STATE'S LAW-MAKERS.

Items of Interest Gleaned From the Proceedings of the General Assembly.

In the House at Frankfort yesterday, a resolution was offered that the Speaker appoint a committee of eleven members, one from each Congressional district, to report how much the House desires appropriated to the World's Fair.

The Committee on Internal Improvements reported favoring the Cansler bill to make tolls on turnpikes and gravel roads free to all ministers, children going to school, and persons attending religious worship and funerals.

Mr. Hart's resolution to abolish afternoon sessions on the two days of the week on which they are held, was called up and speeches for and against were made. The resolution was lost for want of a two-thirds vote.

The revenue bill was then taken up, the article on fiscal courts still being under consideration.

In the Senate, the General Statutes Committee reported favorably three sections of the Revisory Commissioner's report under the titles, "Attorneys," "Actions," and "Champerly, or Maintenance."

Senator Wortham introduced a bill to fix the maximum freight rates for transportation of coal, and providing against discriminations between long and short hauls.

Senator Cockrell introduced one to provide compensation for Circuit Clerks who do business in other counties than their own.

The House has passed the bill in regard to writs of forcible entry and detainer. The bill provides that such writs shall be returnable before the Magistrate issuing them unless the premises lie in another Magisterial district, in which event the writ shall be returnable before the nearest Magistrate in that district. It is also provided that trials shall take place at the office of the officer before whom the writ is returned instead of on the premises in contest.

A bill is pending in the House to provide for the payment of Coroners' juries. It allows $2 per day every day the juror is in attendance.

Representative Bennett of Greenup has introduced a bill to amend the Statutes in regard to County Surveyors. It provides that Surveyors shall promptly execute any order to survey and plat any lands in the county made by a court of proper jurisdiction, provided the person requiring such survey shall have paid or caused to be paid to the Surveyor his legal fees for the same.

Among other acts pending is one to reduce the mileage allowed to members of the General Assembly from fifteen cents per mile to necessary traveling expenses.

Representative Whitaker of Covington has introduced a bill to amend the revenue laws so as to enable the State to sue for taxes and interest thereon. It is estimated that the State will be enabled to recover from $50,000 to $100,000, under this bill.

Representative Pettit will offer an amendment to the World's Fair bill now before the House. Its provisions will be as follows: Power is given to the fiscal courts, municipalities, etc., throughout the State to make such appropriations as they deem proper, and to receive subscriptions from corporations and individuals; when $20,000 has been thus subscribed a meeting may be held, and after completing the details of the organization the Governor may be instructed to appoint committees to take charge of the exhibit, their compensation to be fixed at the pleasure of the subscribers. Provision is made for the exhibition of the State's geological exhibit, etc., and the cabinets of the Agricultural and Mechanical College. The bill from the Senate appropriating $100,000 will meet with bitter opposition, and it is probable that the substitute will be adopted, says the Commercial Gazette correspondent. The office of Register of the Land Office will probably be abolished as provided by the new Constitution. The new Register's report shows in the first month the receipts of the office were less than $74, whilst the expenses exceeded $500 for the same time.

Neuralgia Cured in Fifteen Minutes.

Mr. J. S. Sturtevant, editor of the Waupaca (Wis.) Post, says: "Last night Chamberlain's Pain Balm cured my wife of neuralgia of the face and tooth in fifteen minutes. We would not be without it." Fifty-cent bottles for sale by Power & Reynolds.

OUR theatre-goers may well anticipate a laughing treat at the opera house Friday night in "A Pair of Kids," whose principal character is that of "Jiles Button," an unsophisticated farmer, whose want of knowledge of the ways of society leads him into innumerable scrapes and predicaments. DIED, February 27th, at her home near Cottageville, Lewis County, Mrs. Maggie Doggett, wife of Pierce Doggett, in the twentieth year of her age. She was put to work with a family named Clark, on Oliver street, and subsequently sent to the refuge. Two weeks ago her uncle, James Walker, learned of her whereabouts and took her to his home in Maysville."

THE Ripley Bee has the following: "James Mannen, of Minerva, brought two loads of tobacco here last week, having sold the same to J. D. Gardner. An attachment was issued against it in favor of Bodman & Co., of Cincinnati. The case came up before Squire Shaw, and Bodman got judgment for $33. The circumstances causing the attachment are as follows: Mr. Mannen prized the tobacco for a Mr. Willets, said Willets owing Mannen a grocery bill and for prizing to the amount of $90, for which he gave an order to Mannen for the amount, the tobacco being shipped in Mannen's name. The tobacco was sold and did not bring enough to cover the charges against it, and the Bodman Company brought suit to get the difference. The article published about Mannen shipping a hog's head of sweepings and realizing on it does him an injustice, as there is not a word of truth in it."

R. Narin, a peddler, who is traveling through the county selling plated table ware, was before Squire Grant yesterday charged with evading a tollgate. He was adjudged guilty and fined $10 and costs, amounting in all to $15.30. He has been traveling on the Mt. Sterling pike considerably of late, and would tell the keeper of gate No. 1 that he intended turning off on the Taylor's Mill road, but would then continue on out the Mt. Sterling road. In this way he saved 15 cents. It was a losing game, however, as he was detected and had to plank down $15.30. He came near getting an additional fine for contempt of court.

SAYS the Western Tobacco Journal of Cincinnati: "Messrs. Tabb & Blades, the efficient inspectors, are among those that are over-worked in the trade. From morning till night it is nothing but work. But they do not seem to mind this. They could inspect tobacco all day, and yet be prepared to say they didn't do anything. Such men as these can not be too highly appreciated, a fact which the trade will readily corroborate."

THE prosecution of the Middlesboro parties indicted last fall for lynching Rossmussen is practically ended. The trial of Policeman Douglass, against whom the evidence was considered the strongest, resulted in his acquittal. The indictments against the others will likely be dismissed. Several ex-citizens of Maysville and Mason County it is remembered were among the accused, and their friends will be glad to learn that the matter is at an end.

IN THE LABOR WORLD

A New Association of Iron and Steel Manufacturers.

THEY EMPLOY 40,000 MEN.

An Adjustment of the Wage Scale Will Shortly Be Demanded—Opposition to the Amalgamated Association—Probably a War to the Death Between the Manufacturers and the Labor Organizations Which Will Affect the Iron and Steel Industries of the United States. All the Street Cars Running in Indianapolis—Strike in Chicago—Other Labor News.

PITTSBURG, March 3.—A new association of iron and steel manufacturers, representing thirty firms in Pittsburgh and the Ohio valley, and employing nearly 40,000 men, has been organized. It is stated that this organization, which is entirely independent of the Bar Iron Manufacturers' association, and the Tin Plate association, will make a determined effort for an early adjustment of the wage scale.

The association, it is said, will demand from the Amalgamated association a change in the base of the scale which has heretofore been dictated by the bar iron men. The association will also demand that there shall be three turns of eight hours each, and that hereafter all work shall be paid for by the ton and not by the day or piece work. That the new association will meet with determined opposition from the Amalgamated association and the bar iron manufacturers is certain.

The propositions are the most radical yet presented to the Amalgamated association, and unless complied with means of war to the death between the manufacturers and the labor organizations will affect the iron and steel industries of the United States. Negotiations have been under way with John Jarrett, United States consul at Birmingham, to induce him to accept the secretaryship of the manufacturers' new association, and while no definite arrangements have been made, it is reasonably certain that he will be secured and will take charge of the new iron and steel association.

Street Cars All Running.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 3.—For the time being the street car trouble is settled and every car is running. Yesterday President Frenzel, on an order from the court, surrendered the keys of the locked-up barns to Receiver Steele, who immediately returned the badges to the employees, and all the cars were started out and are now running.

Strike in a Shoe Factory.

CHICAGO, March 3.—Five hundred men and boys employed in Selz, Schwab & Company's boot and shoe factory went on a strike yesterday for an increase in wages. Two hundred and seventy-five girls and seventy-five men remained at their benches, but will likely go out to sustain their fellow employees.

BLOODY TRAGEDY.

Nearly an Entire Texas Family Murdered by a Negro.

SHERMAN, Tex., March 3.—A bloody tragedy is reported to have occurred on Monday night near this city, at the home of William Smith. Sherman is greatly agitated over the affair. A negro named Sam Massey, who lived near Smiths, and was suspected, has been arrested after a hot pursuit by an excited mob. Massey says he knows nothing of the murders, but there is blood on his clothing. William Smith's father tells the following story of the affair: On Monday night one of his little grandchildren stayed at his house all night. She went home in the morning, but soon returned, greatly frightened and cried out: "Papa and mammy and my two brothers have been killed." Mr. Smith hurried to his son's house where a terrible sight confronted him. Lying in pools of blood on the floor there were William Smith and his wife. They were insensible. Nearby was one of the little boys. He was terribly injured but able to say: "Sam did it with a piece of iron." The other inmates of the house were also cut and bruised and the walls were splashed with blood. None of the victims was able to tell the story of the crime.

The Way They Do in Colorado.

DENVER, March 3.—A special from Creede, Colo., says: F. W. Burnett, an eastern mining man, was sitting in his window on Main street, at 11 o'clock last night. A mob from upper Creede came along, stopped, and one man pulled his gun and commenced blazing away at the window. Burnett jumped back and blew out the light. The mob then rushed upstairs, but found him awaiting with a perfect arsenal to meet them. After several shots they left. No cause for the assault is known.

The Latest Ghost Story.

Serious Losses to Property in Several Different Cities.

BAYONNE, N. J., March 3.—Fire broke out in the kitchen of the Hotel St. Charles yesterday morning about 2 o'clock and burned fiercely for awhile, but the fire department arrived promptly and confined the flames to the lower floor. All the inmates escaped uninjured.

The hotel building is three stories in height, with a basement, and is built of brick. The kitchen, dining-room and barroom on the first floor were gutted, but the loss will be small.

Wooden Buildings Burned.

STORMS THROUGHOUT ENGLAND.

Several Vessels Wrecked and Great Damage Done to Property.

LONDON, March 3.—Severe storms prevail throughout England and on the coasts. The sea in the English channel is running very high. Snow squalls are prevalent. The storm on the east coast is very severe. A blizzard is raging at Dover.

The crew of the British steamer Plato have been landed at Falmouth. The Plato was abandoned yesterday in a sinking condition off Scilly. The steamer was bound from Liverpool for Rio Janeiro. When off the Scillies she broke her engine shaft. Before the steam could be shut off the broken shaft plunged wildly about and knocked great holes in the steamer, through which the water began to pour in great volumes.

The pumps were instantly set to work, but were unable to keep the water down. Captain Rendle concluded that it was impossible to save the ship, and determining to abandon her, sent out signals of distress. Relief came, the captain and his crew, twenty-eight in number, were rescued, and shortly after the steamer went down.

Captain Rendle reports that the weather was very bad, and thick with snow in the channel when the Plato met with her accident. She had been laboring hard when her shaft snapped and tore her bottom out. The crew were transferred with great difficulty in the heavy sea.

Secretary Foster in London.

LONDON, March 3.—The Hon. Charles Foster, secretary of the treasury, and party arrived here at 12:30 p. m., having arrived at Southampton at 7 a. m. The party entered carriages and were driven to the Hotel Metropole, where they will stay for some days, according to the present program. Mr. Foster was pale and fatigued, but Dr. Hamilton expressed the opinion that his patient had not suffered any ill-effects from his journey. Dr. Hamilton added that it might safely be said that Mr. Foster was in a better condition of health than when he left Washington, though he is sadly in need of rest.
